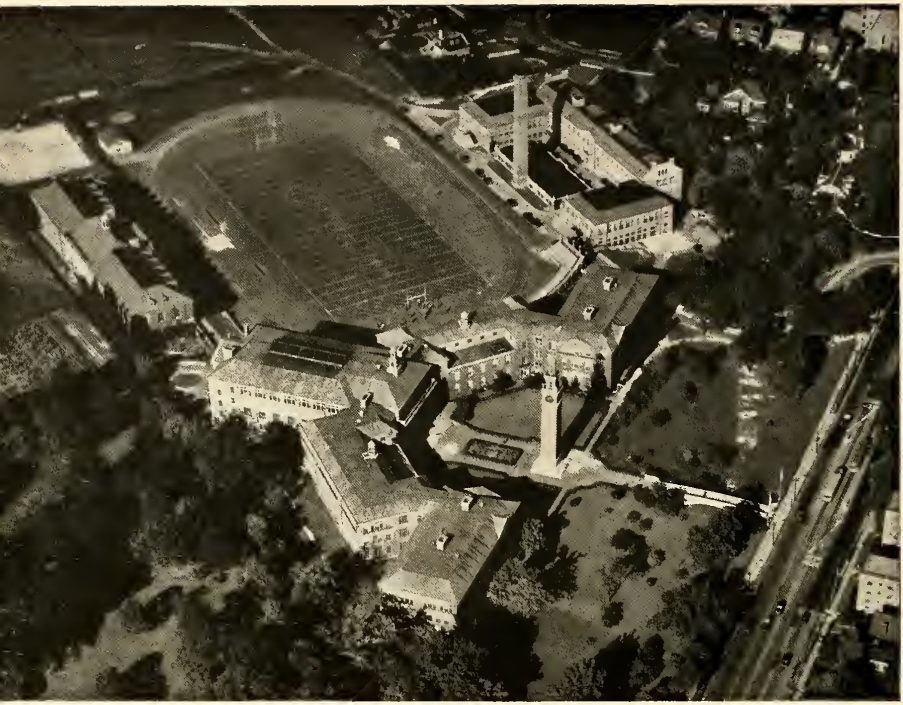
OF THE STUDENTS

IN THE CLASSROOM ON THE FIELD AT WORK AND AT PLAY COMPILED IN THE FORM OF THE ANNUAL THE YEAR BOOK FOR THE SCHOOL



H O W W E L O O K

FROM THE AIR

• Winter . . . wet feet, warm woolens, colorful figures on a white landscape. Winter brings a call to play that we answer with snow balls and sled rides.

Snow swirling overhead,
snow crunching underfoot,
snow on Withrow.

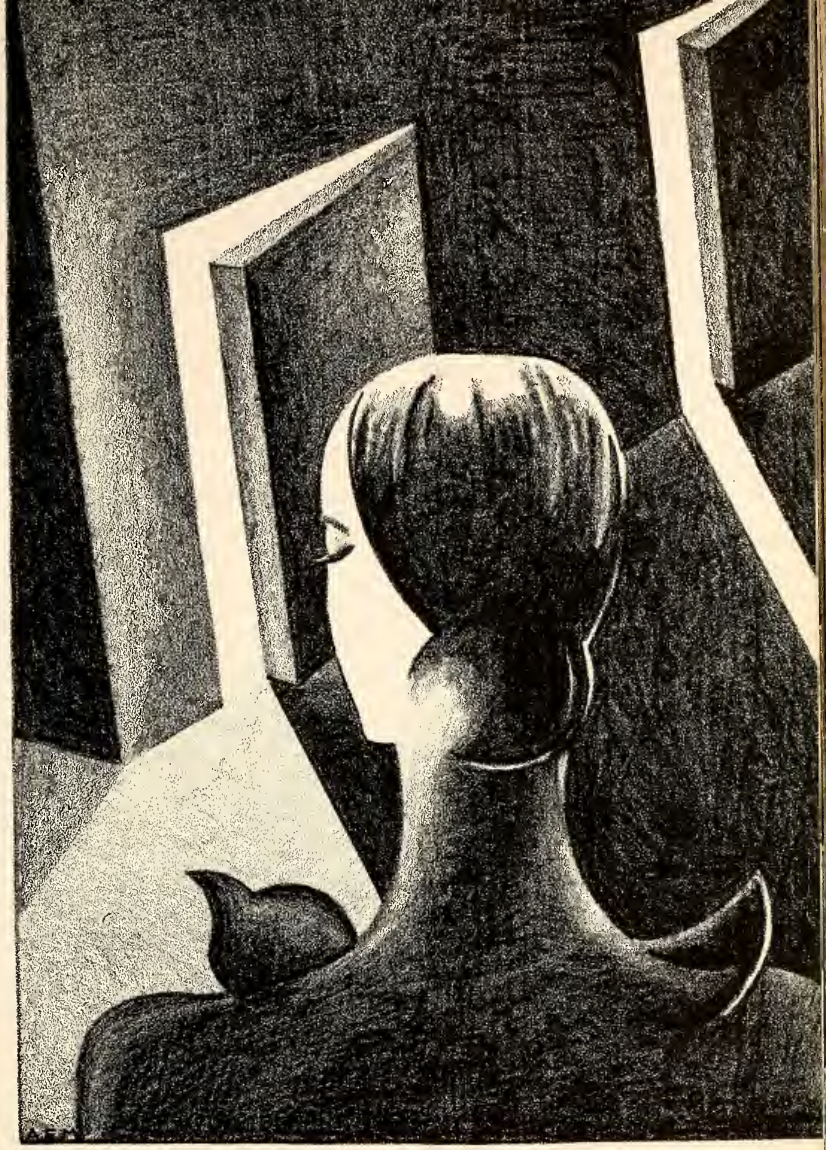
is the world's pleasant king"

BEFORE OPENING DOORS

WE ARE YOUTH. EAGER AND HOPEFUL WE STAND BEFORE THE OPENING DOORS OF EXPERIENCE. UNTRAVELED WORLDS ATTRACT US. HARDSHIPS AND HAPPINESS AWAIT US. WHAT SHALL WE SEE WHEN THE PORTALS HAVE SWUNG WIDE?



• The staccato of typewriters—the telephone's vibrato — the the squeaky cadenza of noisy files—strict rhythm of busy feet —the clock's syncopated warning — musical intonations of happy voices. A concert is given every morning in our office to the accompaniment of which the day's work at Withrow gets under way.

HAIL TO THE CHIEF

● Mr. Peoples, because of his keen sense of humor, and kindly magnanimous nature has endeared himself to every student at Withrow. Towering above the ordinary individual, he seems at first, forbidding and stern, but this is only the exterior. Beneath, he has all the gentle human qualities that inspire confidence and respect. Our school is indeed fortunate to be under his administration.

THEY ARE OUR COUNSELLORS, OUR GUIDES.

● Most of us are acquainted with our genial Assistant Principal. Mr. Cadwallader knows what it means to be that most misunderstood person, a "go-between". Yet, even with teachers and students alike suspecting him of conspiracy in the others' behalf, he maintains his amiable disposition.

● Mr. Downer with his extraordinary understanding of children and likeable disposition, ably administers the affairs of Withrow Junior High School.

THEY MAKE THE WHEELS GO 'ROUND.

● As Dean of Girls, Miss Agerter is more than a student advisor; she is the counsellor and the friend of every girl at Withrow.

POMP AND CEREMONY . . . BLUE COATS, WHITE TROUSERS . . . ADVICE,

• There is a definite feeling to being a senior. Special assemblies, graduation music, responsibilities and other prerogatives all contribute. There are however, many realizations and regrets: we sigh the lack of many things we sought — but we are not really regretful; there is a balance of things learned, discovered and accomplished.

ADMONITIONS . . . GIRLS IN WHITE . . . HONEYCOMB OF DIPLOMAS . . . AND THEN FAREWELL.

LITTLE WITHROW DOES ITS PART

AT THE HEAD OF THEIR CLASS — "PECOK ARWES BRIGHTE AND KENE" — SITTING PRETTY — FUTURE REMBRANDT — MELLOW TONE.

• Orchestra and band for the specially talented; sewing and cooking for girls; industrial arts for boys. These and many other activities keep the Junior High busy. The girls who cook made their "nesses" in the Senior High. For those boys who take industrial arts nothing seems too hard, if it is a matter of presenting their families with evidences of their skill in handicraft.

OFF TO A GOOD START — TEN BASKETEERS — MODELED TO FORM — CULINARY ART.

• An ambitious journalism club publishes a paper named "The Tower Echo", a boy's "Safety Club" joins in helping keep the halls in order. The girls who are domestically inclined are bringing quilting back into fashion with the younger set. Such activities make it evident that those young people in Junior High are just as interested in their surroundings as those in the bigger school.

ALL EXPERIENCE IS AN ARCH WHERE THROUGH GLEAMS THAT UNTRAVELLED WORLD WHOSE MARGIN FADES FOREVER AND FOREVER WHEN I MOVE

TENNYSON

• Classes, along with outside activities at school, form an integral and precious part in the life of a student. Although these early experiences may come to seem insignificant, they are the only means of making ourselves sensitive to opportunities which may arise later; for our work and play together not only add much to our pleasure now, but give us that experience which will some day help us to lead truly happy lives.

● Readily forgiven is man for lacking familiarity with the Pythagorean theory, Hannibal's campaigns, or Latin declensions, but English, fluent and accurate, must always be on the tip of his tongue. English offers more variety than does any other course; we swing from King Arthur's tournaments to comma-splices. In composition classes, "the dog ran" develops into "the dachshund waddled"; in elocution, "uh-uhs" roll into coherent words. In the library we come to enjoy "Miss Bishop" and "Vanity Fair" in preference to the boarding school and "Rover Boys" stories in which we once revelled. In dramatics we learn, with the help of intonation and gesture, to say "yes" with a hundred different meanings.

● The above aspiring artists and authors have captured the atmosphere of Withrow, and have preserved it in black and white. Literally speaking—they have "shot" us, put us in our places, and written us up. Over one question we wrinkle our brows — to whom are we most indebted—the staff or its advisors? Our frown fades — the answer is unimportant. All that matters is that they have worked as a unit, to perpetuate for us, Withrow in its motley moods. Little will we need to beg Time to turn backwards, for we shall have only to thumb through these pages, to find ourselves again at Withrow in nineteen thirty-four.

• Die Versammlung wird zur Ordnung gerufen. Man spricht deutsch. Wir lesen die deutsche Zeitschrift: "Das Echo". Es enthaelt Geschichten, Gedichte, Raetsel, und Bilder. In der letzten Versammlung lernte wir deutsche Lieder singen. Schnell vergehen die fuenf und vierzig Minuten, so dass wir selten Zeit finden, uns zu vertagen.

SAGACIOUS SENIORS SHUN SOLEMNITY IN KALIDASA

simple melody — that's how it started. Back in those good old days when we were young we whistled or sang our favorite tunes—disregarding key or tempo. There was just something about music which pleased us. Many have gone along appreciating only those rhythmic bits of song which happened to catch their fancy; others went to symphonies where such artists as Rachmaninoff and Kreisler thrilled them into the realization that here was another world. A strange new feeling was born in them; they wanted to create music themselves.

At Withrow, these joined musical organizations and began to learn the value of tone, execution, and the strict rhythm needed to produce even the simplest melody.

The majority did not aspire to create, we were content to listen. We did not recognize keys and modes, all we felt was a rhythmic pulsation in our veins, a purging of our minds and hearts. How happy we are in knowing that though we cannot speak the one international language, we can understand it anywhere.

WITHROW'S music department is one of the strongest links in the chain of the school's activities, because it creates a common bond among the students and arouses the interest of outsiders. The Orchestra, Band, and Presentation Orchestra are justly proud of the musicians they have developed. In the Glee Clubs and Special Chorus, the members enjoy training in group singing.

The memory of a thrilling football game would be incomplete if we could not picture the stirring band, urging the boys on to victory. Besides playing at the games and in pep assemblies, this organization, under Smittie's leadership, frequently enlivens auditorium sessions with its marching music.

A high spot of the amateur musical season in Cincinnati is the Annual Concert, under the direction of Mr. Surdo. A chorus of four hundred voices and a combined orchestra of eighty pieces unite to make this program of classical and semi-classical music one of the finest high school performances in the country.

One of the most popular events during the school year is the Minstrel Show. This spring four packed houses, a record crowd for a high school performance, rewarded Mr. Smith and members of the cast.

By participating in these musical organizations many pupils have discovered in themselves unusual talent. In a Post contest for young musicians, the following Withrow students won recognition: Wm. Kueffner, violinist, season symphony tickets; Ell Dee Compton, flutist, a silver medal; Margaret Compton, 'cellist, a bronze medal; Kenneth Nichols, bass, a silver medal; Josephine Myers, violinist, a bronze medal; John Daniels, tenor, a gold medal; and Bill Hogue, tenor, a bronze medal.

• Impressive stage setting, effective lighting, clever costumes, together with an excellent orchestra and cast made this annual production the best ever. Quaking knees were strengthened, fast beating hearts returned to normal after the first burst of applause, greeting the opening chorus. No doubt our Minstrel Show develops in its cast each year the qualities of which real troupers are made.

• Being a director has its rewards . . . Banter bounces back and forth from end man to end man . . . Stars in the making. . . . Add to a cake a frosting, to a pie a filling, or to our Minstrel Show the Pony Chorus—result a perfect treat.

TOUCHDOWN! A slim white figure with arms upraised. Thundering clamor from the stands. The kicker nervously eyeing the goal posts. A sudden hush as the ball is passed. The thud of leather on leather —the ball floating over in a high arc. Pandemonium breaking loose again. The gleam of lights on polished hardwood. Tense figures grouped in the center of the room. A whistle blast—the group breaking into motion. Flashing forms moving down the floor. The swish of leather through the hoop,—again the whistle, bringing the figures to a standstill. . . .

A perspiring player standing on a low mound in the center of the field, eyeing the man at the plate. A sudden galvanization to action—the ball thumping into the catcher's mitt. Again the ball hurtling in. This time the crack of a bat on horsehide and a white sphere whistling to the outfield. . . .

A row of crouching runners, knees bent and heads up. "Runners to your marks!" and leg muscles become taut. The sharp crack of the starter's gun and they're off! . . .

These are the things we shall remember when we think of sports at Withrow. As years pass they will fade and blend into hazy recollections of good times, glorious victories and heart-breaking defeats; memories pervaded by that sense of sportsmanship and fellowship which belongs to athletics at Withrow.

• It's grand to go out to the stadium on a brisk, invigorating, Autumn afternoon and just yell and yell for the home team to make that winning touchdown, to send that ball through the goal posts for extra-point or to block that kick. It's great to thrill to the martial music of a splendid band: to feel those shivers of excitement run up and down your spine.

If our boys win, we go home feeling on top of the world and proceed to play the game all over again in our sleep. This is well and good. Being out in the open air this way is good for us although we undoubtedly lose much by not taking an active part in the game.

Those who sit snugly bundled up in heavy clothes hardly realize the hardships endured by the boys they have come to watch, not only the hardships of the present game but also those endured during the long training grind. Modern football is not the crude game it used to be; it is a combination of brain and brawn and requires the utmost bodily fitness and mental alertness for any appreciable success. A light team using clever plays may easily overcome an orthodox team of brawny gridders. We have never been blessed with a particularly heavy combination, yet by careful training and playing "heads-up" ball, Withrow has remained at or near the top of the league almost since the school was built.

● Hard work, little praise goes with the manager's job. J. Rubin, P. Daniel.

Marshall "Casey" Chandler, Captain, by playing an excellent game at end and half back, proved himself worthy of the trust placed in him.

Albert Foley, honorary captain, unfortunately injured early in the season, was not afforded a chance to show his ability.

George Bowden played a steady game at tackle, and with one year's experience should go places next season.

Tom Lutz made a good showing at end, even though is was his first year of high school competition.

John Grossnickle, hard driving tackle, always held when the play came his way.

Charles Metzger, at quarterback, showed himself to be a hard fighter.

Norman Kusel, at center, is promising material for next year.

Bill Shober played a snappy game at quarterback.

Earl Anderson, when turned loose at halfback, was hard to catch.

WAY TO THE GOAL''

Wilce Carnes: Rugged and powerful—at fullback, he scored many times for Withrow.

Bob Richardson: At tackle he was the "spark-plug" of the Tiger offense.

Jule Hessel: As a tackle he was hard driving and aggressive.

Andy Burkhardt: Steady and reliable at halfback, he was liked by all his fellow players.

Paul Jones: He "held that line" at a tackle position.

John Daniel: Smart headwork at the quarterback position, made up for his diminutive size.

Al Werner: High hopes are held for this promising center.

Bob Laughlin: As a guard he lived up to the true spirit of Withrow.

John Carothers: A big end who knew how to play his position well.

Bill Blackburn: His flashy play at halfback kept the stands in an uproar.

ITH several able stars from last year and some flashy ex-juniors, Coach "Doc" Reuter put a track team in the field which took first place in the indoor meet at the St. Xavier Field House.

After two weeks rest, the team again swung into action against Woodward and outpointed that team 98-35. Russ Covington, a newcomer at Withrow, turned in good time in the 880 run and held his own in a triple tie with Corken of Withrow and Rainey of Woodward for first in the high jump.

On April 25 Norwood invaded our stronghold and went home defeated 95-37. In this meet Walter McGowan repeated his surprising success as a hurdler, while Dick Zeumer and Dick Shreve did well in the century heat.

The next week Withrow sent sixteen boys to the unique Ohio Weslyan Relays where they took third place. Considering the fact that the winners had thirty-five and thirty boys, our team made a very good showing. Score: Toledo Scott 45, Devilbiss High 42½, Withrow 20.

To the surprise of all, Withrow went down to defeat in a three cornered meet with Covington and Western Hills. However the fact that we were without the services of Corken, Carothers, and Alcorn, and that McGowan was injured in the 220 yard hurdles may partially explain this.

At the meet at Oxford, sponsored by Miami College, Withrow defeated the entire field. The Tigers gained a score of 68½, Norwood being second with 56½. Withrow's mile relay team broke the meet record but was disqualified on a technicality.

May 24, in the city meet, Withrow far outdistanced any other team. They swamped their opponents in almost every event amassing a total of 88½ points. Their nearest rival, Western Hills, had 36⅚ points.

The team has yet to show its skill at the Cincinnati Night Relays to be held at the University of Cincinnati stadium.

OR the first time since 1927, swimming at Withrow came into its own this year. Coach Ray Wirth began instructing the team, which was practically the same as last year's, soon after school began, and got results. After the first few dual meets, it was easily seen that the swimmers had a good chance of receiving black letters and orange sweaters, symbols of champion teams. At the end of the season, having won two out of two of the Public High School meets and all but one of the Y. M. C. A. meets they found themselves champions of these two leagues. This luck did not hold against outsiders, though, for the team placed only third in the district meet and lower in the state meet.

Captain Dick Fletcher, star breast and backstroker, has a string of records as testimony of his exceptional ability.

The Constiner brothers, Douglas and Francis, between them did efficient swimming in the 220, 100, and 50 yard free-style races, and free-style relays.

Warren Wurster, speedy free-styler, and Lloyd Thomas, flashy diver, by their stellar performing helped the team win the city championship.

EACH division of intramural athletics is fast becoming important in the world of sports—both in colleges and in high schools. A lamentable outgrowth of the system of interscholastic games is that, because of the too keen competition, only a small handful of students get to play on the varsity teams.

Since the real benefit from athletics comes not to the spectator, but to the player, there has been devised a system of intramural athletics, by which each student takes an active part on one or more of the class teams. Competition is much in evidence, but it is not of a vicious kind. Many promising players have been discovered in this way for the varsity. At any rate, whether one is a star or not he reaches the golden benefits of athletics.

At Withrow, we have a well balanced and carefully conducted program of intramural games. Boys have home-room teams for volleyball, baseball and basketball; freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors each play a regular schedule. Winners of the freshmen and sophomore tournaments play each other for their respective championships, and the junior victors meet the senior champs for top honors in their group.

Girls, too, have their share of this delightful innovation. Their hockey, volleyball, baseball and basketball teams are ever eager for the signal to "start play", and how they do go at it. Some of them might show the boys a thing or two about any of the several sports.

Interest in these games runs high, and, while the play is, as a whole, not as brilliant as varsity style, the boys and girls give their utmost. As a result, the contests never have a dull moment. This sort of thing will build better equipped, healthier and happier citizens for the United States of tomorrow.

STATE CHAMPIONS FOR 1934 - - -

THE distinction of being the only amateur baseball player to hit a ball over the left field wall at Crosley Field goes to Marshall "Casey" Chandler, Captain of our baseball squad.

Pitching steadily and well, Don Corken may well be said to be the mainstay of our pitching staff.

Efficient work behind the bat and at the bat marked the play of these two backstops, Irvin Rubin and John Grossnickle.

Rick Campbell, Wilce Carnes, and Eldon Cunningham ably held down the infield positions.

Paul Jones, hard hitting first baseman goes up after a high one while Milton Conver and Ray Apperius his rivals for the position look on.

These four boys supplied the hurling for our team this year. Don Corken, Harry Bohrer, Bill Bischoff, Francis Constiner.

Gordon Corken, diminutive but slugging left fielder, Lawrence Pape, utility man, and Lee Zeller, substitute infielder, all helped the squad to gain the Southwestern Ohio Championship.

THE GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

● No other club or organization offers so wide a range of activities; most girls are able to find among them real interests. Its program includes such sports as hockey, volley-ball, baseball, basketball, swimming, and track. Points are gained toward letters and numerals by active participation. The climax to all its activities is Honor Night, at which awards are presented, and the Honor Girl is announced.

SWIMMERS LEARN LIFE-SAVING

• Life saving has been an important factor in the girls athletic program this year. Perhaps the fact that it is enjoyable as well as beneficial adds to its popularity with Withrow girls. The tests which were given on April 19, and 20, were passed by the 18 girls who took them.

● Volley-ball! To its already diversified program the G. A. A. has added this new sport. Although this was not as well known as the other games, it was enthusiastically greeted at Withrow. The volley-ball schedule this year included competition between group teams followed by games between the four class teams. Cold winter days, a referee's whistle, two girls jumping, the flash of a ball, a shout and a tense moment, the ball speeding through the basket.

• On crisp fall afternoons girls, clad in bright colored sweaters, may be seen dashing down the hockey field. Fun and excitement seem to be as much a part of this game as the actual playing. A ball speeding across the ground, a whistle's shrill blast, a clicking of sticks —these things add to the thrill of playing hockey and help to make it a favorite among the girls' sports.

● Swimmers get set! Go! A splash! Cheering people—competition. These are for the girls entering the interclass swimming meets held in December, February, and April; some of the most exciting events included in the swimming schedule. Many girls also participate in the ability tests which permit them to show their individual skill. Each year some successfully pass the tests in life-saving, taking advantage of these opportunities to improve their ability in acquatic sports.

BATTER UP! PLAY BALL!

• These are familiar expressions to the many girls who have played baseball this year. They are the signals that started eighteen blue figures into place and into action, for numerous games of fast thinking and fast running. The season opened with a week of practice, followed by the interclass games in which each class played each of the other classes twice. Interest and competition were the causes of the excitement that existed on the diamond at every game.

SUCH IS LIFE

I am a wandering teacher
From room to room I go;
I have to do what others say
And leave each room just so.

I hurry up two flights of steps
In haste my class to reach;
I work for forty minutes hard
And then dash on—to teach.

But ere I pass out through the door,
I with myself commune,
"What are this teacher's fond requests
About this big class room?"

I wait until each child is out,
Inspect each chair with care;
No paper, gum, or books remain—
And happily I leave there.

But as I hurry down the hall,
A thought strikes me stone dead—
The gold fish there I had not fed
Just as that teacher said!

And so it goes on day by day
From first to seventh bell;
The life of these poor wandering souls
Is truly worse than ———.

● Here we have the fair equestriennes who make up Riding Club. First we see Beauty and the Beasts, and then, two under-studies of Barnum and Bailey bareback riders. An honest-to-goodness cavalcade is broken up by Black Beauty, who stopped to pose. To the center-right we see the members on their own feet. Then comes the lady with the scarf, who is very cleanly clearing the six-foot hurdle. And last of all, the tally-ho.

• The Chorean Dance Club is an organization for those girls who enjoy dancing of an interpretive nature. An annual program is given each spring as the culmination of the year's work. In this organization each girl finds herself a new appreciation of art, a new feeling for beauty.

● "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," say our cooks. Not only does Withrow literally "lick their platters clean"—but they always come back for more.

● The latest scoop! We'd like to see any daughter of Ceres wield "spuds" so artfully. We think he's just trying to get even for the nineteenth amendment.

● Although it supports the hand-to-mouth theory, our lunch-room is a spot of unsurpassed popularity. There one may consume his calories in 3-16 time, to the medley of clattering silver, china, and tin.

● The Lunch-room Staff: Row 1. M. Hirst, R. Booth, B .Williams, L. Hamilton, M. Adams, V. Van Matre, N. Meyers, D. Abraham, J. Shaw, D. Schwartz, B. Owen. Row 2. V. Horton, R. Moebus, D. Irwin, R. ● A sure sign of Spring, the lunch-room is in the red—strawberries and tomatoes! Who can blame the child whose eyes prove bigger than his stomach, under such circumstances? Unfortunately though, the aftermath of such temptation often puts one in a "pickle."

● Money! Money! Money! Stacks of it are handled every day by these treasurers. Their job is to count all the daily income of the lunch-room and prepare it for banking.

● Football — basketball — minstrel show — Thalian play — concert. Throughout the year, this hard-working young lady, Miss Gooley, is weighed down with the task of selling and reserving tickets.

● Every Monday morning these bright and shining faces are to be found behind the bank desks in Room 120. They will gladly pay you 3% to keep your money for you.

● Mr. Seay and his trusty assistants: Norma Pritchard, Clara Bell Phillips, and Virginia Noell. These people take care of Withrow's finances.

● The three musketeers of the lunch-room! Mr. Horton "holds that line" while Mr. Mathias and Mr. Hunt see that impetuous freshmen do not overturn any tables.

● Remember, hmm? That flaming red poster hung across the lunch-room ceiling advertising the worthiest of the worthy activities.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Practical experience teaches boys mechanical manipulation

YOUNG ARTISANS EXERCISE THEIR SKILL

• The machine shops at Withrow are used chiefly by students taking the industrial arts course. Here they obtain a basic knowledge of the manipulation and care of tools and machinery. Since it would be impossible in the short period of training available in the high school, to make of every student a master machinist, it is the aim of this work to impart to each pupil a practical knowledge of the equipment, vernacular, and working of a truly modern machine shop. Such a foundation is intended to help the boy choose the occupation he wishes to follow when he leaves school. By the time he has been graduated he knows something of his own fitness for the work offered in the factory of today.

• Withrow during fire drill, in front of the school,—Withrow during a football game, behind the school,—Withrow down in the book room, making money,—Withrow on the third floor, making biscuits. In front and in back, inside and outside, from top to bottom, Withrow is doing, making, and enjoying it.

● Beep! The accompanying snap shots caught us (and two dogs) with varied backgrounds. Some of the poses are dignified, some clever, some amusing, but some don't seem to be poses.

Alice appears to be in a daze, Rin-tin-tin is on the lookout—on the dog shed, Ann ought to be in pictures, and we just know that those aren't Bob's own feet. Some nasty man is ready to pounce upon his unsuspecting prey, and what's this—how did they get up there?

If those five boys want to go West, we won't miss them, but woe unto the girls. There seem to be six more hearts going west—Hollywoodward.

• Hanging over gates, basking on the sand, robbing corn fields—almost everywhere we looked we found Withrow's children, who very obligingly stopped their play for a moment or two and smiled for the birdie. These smiles are now circulated into a thousand homes, to cheer and otherwise amuse past classmates.

● Yours truly, the Annual Staff, went social several times, and invited you to its parties—admission accepted at the door. Here we have preserved several of the smiling countenances that brightened these events. You danced and skated well; intellectual brilliance is no handicap to frivolous merrymaking.

• Three little page girls, eager to take you outside to play. Here they take you hiking, camping, horseback-riding, and sled-riding. Leave the rest of the company for a moment—we want to snap your picture. If you feel graceful, you may pose about the fountain, but if you feel hilarious, you may park upon a rubbish can.

● If cleanliness is next to godliness, these must be the celestial personages of Withrow. Harry faithfully watches the Junior High pupils; the entire staff takes time out for a picture; Elizabeth familiar to us all opens the door of a class room to wash the glass; Harry in a different role, with his son Wilmer, takes care of the athletic fields; Spence pauses in his sweeping as classes pass through the hall; Mr. Schmaltz, head janitor, sees that the many jobs get done.

We appreciate a renewed contact with Withrow High School and have enjoyed our business relations fully. Both teachers and students have manifested a very admirable attitude and interest in the work which we have done together. May we merit future consideration on the basis of the photographic work we have done . . . . .

"We Furnish The China For Withrow"

IF is a bungler that leads you astray
When something comes up to be done right away.
When teacher has set you a task that is stiff.
Sometimes you get 'round it by finding an IF.
BUT is as bad as a stone in your shoe,
Which makes you go home when you need to get through.
It's a difficult thing to get out of a rut,
When you're loaded and hampered and bothered with BUT.
WHEN is the worst of the three: in your ear
Says, "Do it tomorrow, next week or next year."
Great schemes have been ruined again and again
By sand in the gear from that little word WHEN.
If you want to carve out a career to your mind,
To begin with just leave those poor creatures behind;
For the world will be his who in boyhood learns how To establish an intimate friendship with NOW.—Sel.
